

Secret must be secret | Interesting Stories To Tell

The tree was inhabited by two parrots, Tutta and Fiji. One day a bird hunter tried to catch the Tutta parrot when Tutta went in search of its food.

But, Tutta escaped from the hunter but its wings were severely wounded and it couldn't fly properly and it suffered in pain.

Just suffered so much from not being able to go in search of prey. Sensing Tutta parrots distress, Fiji said, "Friend! You do not go in search of prey. Relax sitting on this tree. I will go and pick all the fruit you need". It flew off the tree and entered into a nearby orchard.

Fiji clicked and picked up the fruit he needed. On its way Cuckoo saw the fruit in Fiji parrots' beak and said, "Parrot sister.. Parrot sister.. I haven't eaten fruit for a long time. Can you give me some fruit too?". Heard that passionately.

Immediately the Fiji parrot gave the fruit to Cuckoo. After eating the fruit, Cuckoo said, "parrot sister this fruit is so delicious! Where did you get this fruit from?" asked obediently. The parrot hasn't shared its secret place of that fruit to anyone but Cuckoo wanted to know about it.

Now the parrot decided to let it know by Cuckoo. He immediately looked at Cuckoo and said, "Cuckoo friend! If you fly a short distance along this path you will see an orchard. I used to pick fruit from that orchard.""

Immediately the Cuckoo began to fly rapidly from there towards the orchard. Cuckoo was tired and it sat on a tree to relax along the way. Then the squirrel in the tree met the Cuckoo.

"Is Cuckoo well?" asked Squirrel. "It's been a long time since I've seen you! How are you?" Heard that passionately.

Cuckoo immediately said, "Brother Squirrel, I'm fine. Now I am going to the nearby orchard to eat the delicious fruit.""

The squirrel heard it and nodded. “Cuckoo sister Is there an orchard here? I didn't even know until now!” Said with surprise.

“Squirrel brother!. I also knew it now when the Fiji parrot said.” Immediately the squirrel said “Cuckoo sister you go first. Then I will bring my friends.”

Cuckoo quickly began to fly in search of the orchard. After a while the squirrel took the other squirrels and headed towards the orchard.

The squirrels all came together in a herd and entered the orchard, biting all the fruits and making everything useless. The gardener who came there at that time was angry at the action of the squirrels.

These squirrels should be taught a lesson. He thought that if he were idle anymore, all the fruits in the garden would be useless.

He set up a safety wire net around the fruit the next day and covered it with a lid. The next day the parrot, who usually enters the orchard to pick the fruit, was shocked.

Seeing that the fruit was all covered with a safety wire net, she anxiously flew back to her location, unable to pluck the fruit.

On the way Fiji met the cuckoo on the branch.
“Parrot sister, Did you go to the orchard and come by yourself without being able to pick the fruit!”, What to do,I informed Squirrel about the secret place.

“ The gardener has set a safety net around the fruits not letting anyone eat it ”she lamented.

The parrot could not go to the orchard and pluck the fruit so it started flying to look for prey to see if the fruit was available anywhere else.

“I have been secretly guarding the orchard until now. I told about it to this cuckoo and now my friend and I have no fruits to eat!. Now I have to go somewhere else and look for prey for my friend,” said the parrot anxiously.
